

San Diego Food Finds Blog

Sunday Brunching at Ponsaty's

December 18, 2016

Something to look forward to after ringing in the New Year? The new delectable brunch menu at Rancho Santa Fe's elegant gem: Ponsaty's. Master French Chef Patrick Ponsaty has crafted a menu to appease the appetites of all! Available every Sunday beginning January 15th, diners can enjoy bottomless mimosas and dishes including Herb Crusted Prime Ribeye with a Horseradish Sauce, Sea Water Poached King Crab Legs with French Cocktail Sauce and lemon, and of course, a show-stopping Egg Benedict Florentine with Spinach and Mornay Sauce. Wine and dine yourself for $49 per guest and $25 for kids – add on the bottomless mimosas and bloody mary's for an extra $15. The entire menu is available here.

Ponsaty's offers diners California modern cuisine with French influences. This hidden gem has created a farm to table dining experience serving the most robust flavors of the season with impeccable service. Influenced by years of extensive training in kitchens around the world, fifth-generation French Chef Patrick Ponsaty has created seasonal, flavorful dishes that satisfy every client's palates. Over 31 years of experience at multiple Michelin Star-rated restaurants, have earned Chef Patrick the title of "Master French Chef" from the Paris-based Association des Maitres Cuisiniers de France. Chef Patrick continues to stir the evolution of Modern French cooking by utilizing the abundant resources of San Diego. Bringing together a celebration of local skilled farmers, foragers and fishermen from whose bounties he assembles his award-winning culinary creations.

Share in Chef Patrick's passion and culinary trends by treating yourself to brunch, lunch or a night of dining excellence. Watch Chef Patrick Ponsaty discuss his passion for cooking and what culinary arts mean to him by clicking here. Ponsaty's is located at 6106 Paseo Delicias, Rancho Santa Fe, CA 92067 and you can make reservations by calling (858) 771-1871.